1. Toy not shared or taken away

Id: 1

Slug: toy-not-shared-or-taken-away

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: I have to react when things feel unfair.

True Belief: I can pause and choose my response.

Feeling: Hot frustration and a flash of 'that's mine' — wanting to grab it back.

Parent Teach: That other people's feelings matter too, even when something feels unfair.

Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Friendship & Sharing, Playing & Games, Communication

Priority: ■■■ High

2. Screen time cut off suddenly

Id: 2

Slug: screen-time-cut-off-suddenly

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: I have to get what I want immediately.

True Belief: I can handle disappointment and make wise choices.

Feeling: A sudden jolt of protest — the fun was cut off with no warning.

Parent Teach: That transitions go easier with a heads-up, and endings aren't punishments.

Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Responsibility

Priority: ■■■ High

3. Told 'no' without explanation

Id: 3

Slug: told-no-without-explanation

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Respect

False Belief: If people say "no", they don't care about me.

True Belief: I can listen, ask and understand even when I don't like the answer.

Feeling: Stubborn defiance — wanting a reason, not just an order.

Parent Teach: That some rules don't need debate, and trust can hold even without an explanation.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Communication, Family & Daily Life, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■ Medium

4. Sibling gets bigger portion or more attention

Id: 4

Slug: sibling-gets-bigger-portion-or-more-attention

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Worth

False Belief: Someone else's success makes me less important.

True Belief: Everyone has their own gifts and my worth doesn't depend on comparison.

Feeling: A sting of unfairness — feeling smaller and less important than a sibling.

Parent Teach: That love isn't measured in portions, and being loved doesn't mean being equal.

Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Helping & Caring, Responsibility, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■■ High

5. Can't finish homework or a craft

Id: 5

Slug: can-t-finish-homework-or-a-craft

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Perseverance

False Belief: If I can't do it quickly, I can't do it.

True Belief: Every attempt helps me improve.

Feeling: Rising frustration at their own hands not doing what their mind wants.

Parent Teach: That struggling is part of learning, not proof they're bad at it.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Learning & Problem Solving, Building & Creating, Art, Music & Creativity

Priority: ■■ Medium

6. Playdate or plan suddenly cancelled

Id: 6

Slug: playdate-or-plan-suddenly-cancelled

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Flexibility

False Belief: Plans must happen my way.

True Belief: I can adapt and still enjoy life.

Feeling: Sharp disappointment — an exciting plan just disappeared.

Parent Teach: That plans can change and disappointment can be survived without spoiling everything.

Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Friendship & Sharing, Playing & Games, Family & Daily Life

Priority: ■■ Medium

7. Someone breaks their Lego or drawing

Id: 7

Slug: someone-breaks-their-lego-or-drawing

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: My anger should decide what I do.

True Belief: I can choose calm actions even when I'm upset.

Feeling: A wave of anger at seeing something they made get destroyed.

Parent Teach: That things can be rebuilt, and their effort still counted even if it broke.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Building & Creating, Communication, Friendship & Sharing

Priority: ■■ Medium

8. Being hurried to put shoes on or leave

Id: 8

Slug: being-hurried-to-put-shoes-on-or-leave

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Patience

False Belief: Everything has to happen right now.

True Belief: I can slow down and work with the moment I'm in.

Feeling: Irritable resistance to being hurried when they weren't ready.

Parent Teach: That slowing down sometimes isn't possible, but their pace still matters.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Modak

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Responsibility, Communication

Priority: ■■ Medium

9. Feeling hungry or extremely tired (hangry)

Id: 9

Slug: feeling-hungry-or-extremely-tired-hangry

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Comfort

False Belief: I can't cope when my body feels uncomfortable.

True Belief: I can care for my body and uncomfortable moments will pass.

Feeling: Short-fused crankiness that isn't really about what just happened.

Parent Teach: That big feelings are sometimes just a full tummy or tired body in disguise.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Helping & Caring

Priority: ■■ Medium

10. Blamed for something they didn't do

Id: 10

Slug: blamed-for-something-they-didn-t-do

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Fairness

False Belief: Being blamed means nobody believes me.

True Belief: I can respond honestly and calmly, even when things feel unfair.

Feeling: Indignation at being punished for something they didn't do.

Parent Teach: That being falsely blamed hurts, and it's safe to say so calmly.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Communication, Responsibility, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■■ High

11. Being teased or physically pushed

Id: 11

Slug: being-teased-or-physically-pushed

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: If someone hurts me, I should hurt them back.

True Belief: I can protect myself without losing control.

Feeling: Fear tangled with anger — wanting to hit back or hide.

Parent Teach: That standing tall doesn't require becoming what hurt them.

Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Friendship & Sharing, Communication, Playing & Games

Priority: ■■ Medium

12. No say in what to wear or eat

Id: 12

Slug: no-say-in-what-to-wear-or-eat

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Independence

False Belief: I should always get to decide everything.

True Belief: I can cooperate even when I don't get my way.

Feeling: Frustration at having no vote in small everyday decisions.

Parent Teach: That a little choice, even in small things, builds real self-trust.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Responsibility

Priority: ■■ Medium

13. Adult doesn't understand what they mean

Id: 13

Slug: adult-doesn-t-understand-what-they-mean

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Acceptance

False Belief: If people don't understand me, something is wrong with me.

True Belief: I can express myself patiently and be myself.

Feeling: Helpless irritation at not being understood, even while trying to explain.

Parent Teach: That being patient while explaining again is its own kind of strength.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Communication, Helping & Caring, Family & Daily Life

Priority: ■■ Medium

14. Game crashes or internet lags during a win

Id: 14

Slug: game-crashes-or-internet-lags-during-a-win

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Resilience

False Belief: One setback ruins everything.

True Belief: I can begin again after setbacks.

Feeling: Sharp letdown when a win gets erased by something out of their control.

Parent Teach: That effort still counts even when the outcome gets taken away.

Wisdom Element: Lotus

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Learning & Problem Solving, Playing & Games, Responsibility

Priority: ■■ Medium

15. Forced to sit still too long (car, flight)

Id: 15

Slug: forced-to-sit-still-too-long-car-flight

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: I can't stay calm when I feel trapped.

True Belief: I can find peaceful ways to handle uncomfortable moments.

Feeling: Restless, fidgety irritation at a body that wants to move.

Parent Teach: That stillness is a skill that grows, not a switch that flips.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Playing & Games, Art, Music & Creativity

Priority: ■■ Medium

16. Game save file corrupted or deleted

Id: 16

Slug: game-save-file-corrupted-or-deleted

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Resilience

False Belief: Losing my progress means I've failed.

True Belief: I can rebuild and keep moving forward.

Feeling: Grief-tinged anger at losing hours of effort in an instant.

Parent Teach: That things we build can be rebuilt, and the loss still deserves comfort.

Wisdom Element: Lotus

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Learning & Problem Solving, Playing & Games, Building & Creating

Priority: ■■ Medium

17. A treat or promise was forgotten

Id: 17

Slug: a-treat-or-promise-was-forgotten

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Trust

False Belief: Broken promises mean people don't care about me.

True Belief: Trust grows through honesty, reliability and understanding.

Feeling: Betrayal-flavored disappointment when a promised treat quietly vanishes.

Parent Teach: That promises matter, and it's fair to remind grown-ups gently when one slips.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Responsibility

Priority: ■■ Medium

18. Sibling tells on them unfairly

Id: 18

Slug: sibling-tells-on-them-unfairly

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Fairness

False Belief: I have to get even when something feels unfair.

True Belief: I can respond with honesty instead of revenge.

Feeling: Anger at being reported on, especially if it feels exaggerated.

Parent Teach: That tattling and telling are different, and both siblings deserve fairness.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Friendship & Sharing

Priority: ■■ Medium

19. Scratchy clothes or irritating noise

Id: 19

Slug: scratchy-clothes-or-irritating-noise

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Comfort

False Belief: I can't be okay when things feel uncomfortable.

True Belief: I can stay peaceful even when my surroundings aren't perfect.

Feeling: Irritable discomfort that has nothing to do with anyone's behavior.

Parent Teach: That bodies have limits too, and naming discomfort isn't complaining.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Lotus

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■ Medium

20. Repeatedly failing a level or concept

Id: 20

Slug: repeatedly-failing-a-level-or-concept

Category: Anger & Frustration

Core Need: Perseverance

False Belief: If I keep failing, I should quit.

True Belief: Every challenge helps me become stronger.

Feeling: Mounting frustration at hitting the same wall again and again.

Parent Teach: That repetition isn't failure — it's how mastery actually happens.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Learning & Problem Solving, Playing & Games, Building & Creating

Priority: ■■ Medium

21. Darkness or shadows in the room

Id: 21

Slug: darkness-or-shadows-in-the-room

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Courage

False Belief: Fear means I should stop.

True Belief: Courage is taking one small brave step.

Feeling: A prickle of dread when the room turns unfamiliar in the dark.

Parent Teach: That the dark hides nothing new, just what daylight already showed.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Family & Daily Life, Communication

Priority: ■■■■ High

22. Thunder, fireworks, or loud sirens

Id: 22

Slug: thunder-fireworks-or-loud-sirens

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Security

False Belief: Loud or unexpected things mean I'm not safe.

True Belief: I can find safety, calm and support.

Feeling: A full-body startle at a sound too loud to predict.

Parent Teach: That loud sounds pass, and their body can learn to settle after the jolt.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Family & Daily Life, Communication

Priority: ■■■■ High

23. Monsters under the bed or scary stories

Id: 23

Slug: monsters-under-the-bed-or-scary-stories

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Courage

False Belief: My imagination can control me.

True Belief: I can be braver than my fears.

Feeling: Vivid, sticky fear from an imagined creature that feels very real.

Parent Teach: That imagination can also invent safety, not just monsters.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Lotus

Life Domains: Art, Music & Creativity, Family & Daily Life, Communication

Priority: ■■■ High

24. Parent leaving for work or a long trip

Id: 24

Slug: parent-leaving-for-work-or-a-long-trip

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Trust

False Belief: When someone leaves, they might not come back.

True Belief: I can trust the people who love and care for me.

Feeling: A tight knot of worry that the goodbye might be a forever one.

Parent Teach: That leaving and returning are part of the same promise, kept every time.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Helping & Caring

Priority: ■■■ High

25. Fear of going on stage or presenting

Id: 25

Slug: fear-of-going-on-stage-or-presenting

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Confidence

False Belief: If I'm nervous, I can't do it.

True Belief: Confidence grows each time I try.

Feeling: Stomach-churning stage fright — every eye suddenly too much.

Parent Teach: That shaky knees and a steady voice can exist in the same moment.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Art, Music & Creativity, Communication, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■■ High

26. Anxiety before a big test or result

Id: 26

Slug: anxiety-before-a-big-test-or-result

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Confidence

False Belief: If I don't do well, I'm not good enough.

True Belief: My effort and learning matter more than perfect results.

Feeling: Anticipatory dread that builds for days before the actual test.

Parent Teach: That preparation is protection, and one result doesn't define their worth.

Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Learning & Problem Solving, Responsibility, Communication

Priority: ■■ Medium

27. Injections, doctors, or dentist visits

Id: 27

Slug: injections-doctors-or-dentist-visits

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Courage

False Belief: If something hurts, I can't handle it.

True Belief: I am stronger than I think, even during difficult moments.

Feeling: Sharp anxiety about pain that hasn't even happened yet.

Parent Teach: That brief discomfort can be survived, and asking for comfort is allowed.

Wisdom Element: Mouse

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Helping & Caring, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■ Medium

28. New teacher or unfamiliar adult

Id: 28

Slug: new-teacher-or-unfamiliar-adult

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Trust

False Belief: New people won't understand or help me.

True Belief: Trust grows one step at a time.

Feeling: Wary uncertainty around someone new whose intentions aren't known yet.

Parent Teach: That caution is wise, and warming up slowly is not the same as rudeness.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: School & Community, Communication, Friendship & Sharing

Priority: ■■ Medium

29. Fear of getting lost in a mall or crowd

Id: 29

Slug: fear-of-getting-lost-in-a-mall-or-crowd

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Security

False Belief: If I'm alone, I'm not safe.

True Belief: I can stay calm, make wise choices and find help.

Feeling: Panic at the thought of a familiar hand suddenly not being there.

Parent Teach: That a plan for 'what if we get separated' turns fear into readiness.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Communication, Helping & Caring

Priority: ■■ Medium

30. Accidentally saw a scary or violent video

Id: 30

Slug: accidentally-saw-a-scary-or-violent-video

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Security

False Belief: The scary things I see will happen to me.

True Belief: I can separate imagination from reality and seek comfort.

Feeling: Intrusive, unsettling images that won't easily leave their mind.

Parent Teach: That not everything seen online is meant for their eyes, and that's okay to say.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Lotus

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Art, Music & Creativity

Priority: ■■ Medium

31. Heard about war or violence on news

Id: 31

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Security

False Belief: The world is always dangerous.

True Belief: There are many people working every day to keep others safe.

Feeling: Heavy, adult-sized dread about something too big to fully picture.

Parent Teach: That caring adults are working on big problems, and their job is just to be a kid.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Lotus

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Helping & Caring

Priority: ■ Low

32. Saw news about floods, fires, earthquakes

Id: 32

Slug: saw-news-about-floods-fires-earthquakes

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Hope

False Belief: Bad things mean everything is ruined forever.

True Belief: People can help, rebuild and begin again.

Feeling: Overwhelm at scenes of destruction that feel close even from far away.

Parent Teach: That most places, most days, are safe — and helpers exist for the hard days.

Wisdom Element: Lotus

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Helping & Caring, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■ Low

33. Fear that a parent might get sick

Id: 33

Slug: fear-that-a-parent-might-get-sick

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Trust

False Belief: I might lose the people I love.

True Belief: Love, care and support help us through uncertain times.

Feeling: Quiet, private fear they might be carrying alone.

Parent Teach: That saying a fear out loud to a trusted adult makes it smaller, not bigger.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Helping & Caring, Communication

Priority: ■■ Medium

34. Overheard adults talking about money problems

Id: 34

Slug: overheard-adults-talking-about-money-problems

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Security

False Belief: We won't be okay if money is tight.

True Belief: Families work together and find solutions during hard times.

Feeling: A confusing unease absorbed from grown-up conversations not meant for them.

Parent Teach: That money worries are a grown-up job, and they are still fully provided for.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■ Low

35. Overthinking imaginary future dangers

Id: 35

Slug: overthinking-imaginary-future-dangers

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Calm

False Belief: I have to believe every scary thought.

True Belief: Thoughts are not always facts, and I can return to the present.

Feeling: Spiraling worry about things that haven't happened and may never.

Parent Teach: That imagined futures aren't facts, and today is the only place to stand.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Life Domains: Art, Music & Creativity, Learning & Problem Solving, Communication

Priority: ■■ Medium

36. Fear of being laughed at by class

Id: 36

Slug: fear-of-being-laughed-at-by-class

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Self-Worth

False Belief: If others laugh at me, I don't matter.

True Belief: My value isn't decided by other people's opinions.

Feeling: Sharp social dread — imagining every eye and every laugh.

Parent Teach: That embarrassment fades fast, faster than it feels in the moment.

Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: School & Community, Communication, Friendship & Sharing

Priority: ■■ Medium

37. First day at a new school

Id: 41

Slug: anxiety-about-the-earth-breaking-climate-change

Category: Fear & Insecurity

Core Need: Hope

False Belief: Nothing I do can make a difference.

True Belief: Small caring actions can help create a better future.

Feeling: Diffuse, grown-up-scaled anxiety about a world too large to control.

Parent Teach: That small daily actions matter, and worry doesn't have to carry the whole planet.

Wisdom Element: Lotus

Secondary Wisdom Element: Curved Trunk

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Helping & Caring, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■ Low

42. Friend is not playing with them today

Id: 42

Slug: friend-is-not-playing-with-them-today

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Belonging

False Belief: If my friend chooses someone else, I'm not important.

True Belief: Friendships can grow even when people spend time with others.

Feeling: A quiet ache of being left out of today's fun.

Parent Teach: That one day of distance doesn't undo a friendship.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Comfort

False Belief: I can't be okay without this special thing.

True Belief: The love and comfort I feel live inside me too.

Feeling: Sharp grief over something small to others but precious to them.

Parent Teach: That objects can be mourned too, and new comfort can still be found.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Lotus

Life Domains: Exploring & Nature, Learning & Problem Solving, Family & Daily Life

Priority: ■■■ High

46. Harshly reprimanded by a parent

Id: 46

Slug: harshly-reprimanded-by-a-parent

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Acceptance

False Belief: When I make mistakes, I'm not loved.

True Belief: I can make mistakes and still be deeply loved.

Feeling: Stinging shame layered under sadness after being scolded hard.

Parent Teach: That correction and love can coexist, even when a voice was raised.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Responsibility

Priority: ■■■ High

47. Feeling invisible to a busy parent

Id: 47

Slug: feeling-invisible-to-a-busy-parent

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Belonging

False Belief: I'm not important because nobody notices me.

True Belief: I matter even when people are busy.

Feeling: A lonely ache of not being noticed, even in a full house.

Parent Teach: That being busy isn't the same as not caring, and both can be true.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Helping & Caring, Communication

Priority: ■■ Medium

48. Not invited to a birthday party

Id: 48

Slug: not-invited-to-a-birthday-party

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Belonging

False Belief: Being left out means nobody likes me.

True Belief: One invitation does not decide my worth or my friendships.

Feeling: Sharp exclusion — wondering what made them not good enough to invite.

Parent Teach: That not every gathering includes everyone, and that isn't a verdict on their worth.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Broken Tusk (Writing Tusk)

Life Domains: Friendship & Sharing, Celebrations & Traditions, Communication

Priority: ■■■ High

49. A fall or scrape — the shock of pain

Id: 49

Slug: a-fall-or-scrape-the-shock-of-pain

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Resilience

False Belief: Getting hurt means I should stop trying.

True Belief: I can heal, recover and keep growing.

Feeling: Shock and sting that arrive together in the first seconds of pain.

Parent Teach: That comfort matters as much as the injury, and both deserve attention.

Wisdom Element: Lotus

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Helping & Caring, Playing & Games, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■ Medium

50. Missing a parent who travels often

Id: 50

Slug: missing-a-parent-who-travels-often

Category: Sadness & Grief

Core Need: Trust

False Belief: Distance means love becomes smaller.

True Belief: Love stays strong even when people are far away.

Feeling: A steady undercurrent of missing someone who's often away.

Parent Teach: That distance doesn't shrink love, and counting days can make waiting easier.

Wisdom Element: Big Ears

Secondary Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Communication, Art, Music & Creativity

Priority: ■■ Medium

51. Close friend moved to another city

Id: 51

Slug: end-of-a-long-school-week-brain-feels-full

Category: Regulation & Energy Overload

Core Need: Comfort

False Belief: I should always keep going.

True Belief: Rest is part of learning and growing.

Feeling: Depleted, foggy exhaustion by the end of a long week.

Parent Teach: That a full brain deserves rest, the same way a full day deserves sleep.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Modak

Life Domains: School & Community, Family & Daily Life, Learning & Problem Solving

Priority: ■■ Medium

104. Cranky after a late night or bad sleep

Id: 104

Slug: cranky-after-a-late-night-or-bad-sleep

Category: Regulation & Energy Overload

Core Need: Self-Control

False Belief: Being tired gives me no control over my behaviour.

True Belief: I can notice my feelings and choose kind actions.

Feeling: Thin-skinned crankiness from a body running on too little sleep.

Parent Teach: That crankiness isn't a character flaw — it's a body asking for rest.

Wisdom Element: Big Belly

Secondary Wisdom Element: Mouse

Life Domains: Family & Daily Life, Responsibility, Helping & Caring

Priority: ■■■ High

105. Trying to do homework while TV is on

Id: 105

1. The Vulnerable Wanderer

Id: 1

Slug: the-vulnerable-wanderer

Description: Introduce the hero facing a relatable emotional challenge before the adventure begins.

How It Works: Starts with emotion before action so children immediately identify with the hero.

Why It Works: Empathy is created before curiosity, making readers care about what happens next.

Best Story Structures: Transformation Story, Journey Story, Character Growth Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Great Journey, Hero's Trial, Coming of Age

Best Emotional Arcs: Fear → Courage, Self-Doubt → Confidence, Loneliness → Belonging

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth, Friendship, Journey

Best Age: 5–8

Opening Formula: Child struggling → Small glimpse of world → Something unexpected appears

Opening Emotion: Empathy

Illustration Goal: Show the hero small within a rich environment, with body language revealing the emotional state.

Page Turn Hook: "Then something unexpected caught their attention..."

Writing Tips: Keep the challenge small and relatable. Show emotion through actions instead of explaining it.

2. The Tiny Mystery

Id: 2

Slug: the-tiny-mystery

Description: Begin with a small unexplained event that sparks curiosity.

How It Works: Gives the child an immediate question to solve.

Why It Works: Curiosity keeps pages turning naturally.

Best Story Structures: Mystery Story, Discovery Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Mystery to Solve, Secret Discovery, Treasure Hunt

Best Emotional Arcs: Curiosity → Discovery, Wonder → Understanding

Best Story Types: Mystery, Discovery, Adventure

Best Age: 5–10

Opening Formula: Normal world → Strange detail appears → Hero decides to investigate

Opening Emotion: Curiosity

Illustration Goal: Highlight one unusual object or event while keeping the rest of the scene ordinary.

Page Turn Hook: "But why was it there?"

Writing Tips: Mystery should be small enough for children to understand but intriguing enough to continue reading.

3. The Unexpected Interruption

Id: 3

Slug: the-unexpected-interruption

Description: The hero's ordinary day is suddenly interrupted by an unexpected event.

How It Works: Quickly shifts from normal life into adventure.

Why It Works: Creates momentum immediately without long setup.

Best Story Structures: Adventure Story, Rescue Story, Quest Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Rescue Mission, Great Journey, Race Against Time

Best Emotional Arcs: Surprise → Courage, Calm → Determination

Best Story Types: Adventure, Rescue, Quest

Best Age: 5–10

Opening Formula: Normal day → Unexpected interruption → Hero reacts

Opening Emotion: Surprise

Illustration Goal: Contrast peaceful routine with sudden movement or change.

Page Turn Hook: "Before anyone could understand what happened..."

Writing Tips: Keep the interruption simple and easy to understand. The hero should react immediately.

4. The Everyday Wonder

Id: 4

Slug: the-everyday-wonder

Description: Begin in an ordinary place where something beautiful or unusual is quietly discovered.

How It Works: Invites children to notice wonder in familiar surroundings.

Why It Works: Builds curiosity through observation instead of action.

Best Story Structures: Discovery Story, Nature Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Hidden World, Nature's Balance, Secret Discovery

Best Emotional Arcs: Wonder → Gratitude, Curiosity → Discovery

Best Story Types: Nature, Discovery

Best Age: 5–8

Opening Formula: Ordinary place → Tiny beautiful detail → Hero notices something different

Opening Emotion: Wonder

Illustration Goal: Rich environmental illustration with one subtle magical or surprising detail.

Page Turn Hook: "But today, something looked different..."

Writing Tips: Let the illustration do much of the storytelling. Keep text gentle and minimal.

5. The Emotional Spark

Id: 5

Slug: the-emotional-spark

Description: Open with a strong feeling or emotional problem the hero is experiencing.

How It Works: Emotion becomes the story's starting point rather than the plot.

Why It Works: Children recognise the feeling immediately.

Best Story Structures: Transformation Story, Character Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Coming of Age, Hero's Trial

Best Emotional Arcs: Any emotional arc

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth, Friendship

Best Age: 5–10

Opening Formula: Strong emotion → Small situation showing it → Something changes

Opening Emotion: Empathy

Illustration Goal: Close-up of facial expression and body language.

Page Turn Hook: "Then something happened that changed everything..."

Writing Tips: Show emotion through behaviour rather than naming it.

6. The Invitation

Id: 6

Slug: the-invitation

Description: Someone invites the hero to help, join or explore something new.

How It Works: Gives the story a clear purpose from the beginning.

Why It Works: Children quickly understand the mission.

Best Story Structures: Journey Story, Quest Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Great Journey, Community Project, Expedition

Best Emotional Arcs: Curiosity → Confidence, Fear → Courage

Best Story Types: Journey, Quest, Community

Best Age: 6–10

Opening Formula: Invitation arrives → Hero hesitates → Accepts the invitation

Opening Emotion: Curiosity

Illustration Goal: Show two characters interacting with excitement or curiosity.

Page Turn Hook: "Should I go?"

Writing Tips: The invitation should feel exciting but believable.

7. The Missing Something

Id: 7

Slug: the-missing-something

Description: An important object, person or idea has disappeared.

How It Works: Instantly creates a clear goal.

Why It Works: Children immediately understand what needs to be solved.

Best Story Structures: Mystery Story, Rescue Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Rescue Mission, Mystery to Solve, Treasure Hunt

Best Emotional Arcs: Concern → Hope, Curiosity → Discovery

Best Story Types: Mystery, Rescue

Best Age: 5–10

Opening Formula: Something important is missing → Hero discovers it → Search begins

Opening Emotion: Concern

Illustration Goal: Empty space where something should be.

Page Turn Hook: "Where did it go?"

Writing Tips: Make the missing item emotionally meaningful.

8. The Promise

Id: 8

Slug: the-promise

Description: The hero makes—or receives—a meaningful promise.

How It Works: Establishes responsibility and emotional stakes.

Why It Works: Readers want to know whether the promise will be kept.

Best Story Structures: Relationship Story, Community Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Promise Keeper, Community Project

Best Emotional Arcs: Trust → Responsibility, Fear → Integrity

Best Story Types: Relationships, Family, Community

Best Age: 6–10

Opening Formula: Promise made → Responsibility accepted → Challenge begins

Opening Emotion: Trust

Illustration Goal: Warm interaction between characters that shows the relationship.

Page Turn Hook: "Could the promise really be kept?"

Writing Tips: Keep the promise simple and emotionally important.

9. The Race Against Time

Id: 9

Slug: the-race-against-time

Description: The hero must complete something before a deadline.

How It Works: Introduces urgency from the very first page.

Why It Works: Creates immediate tension and momentum.

Best Story Structures: Adventure Story, Rescue Story, Mission Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Race Against Time, Rescue Mission, Festival Adventure

Best Emotional Arcs: Anxiety → Determination, Worry → Confidence

Best Story Types: Adventure, Rescue, Festival

Best Age: 6–10

Opening Formula: Deadline introduced → Stakes explained → Hero decides to act

Opening Emotion: Urgency

Illustration Goal: Show a visible countdown (setting sun, approaching storm, festival preparations, etc.).

Page Turn Hook: "Would they make it in time?"

Writing Tips: Make the deadline easy for children to understand and emotionally meaningful.

10. The Impossible Task

Id: 10

Slug: the-impossible-task

Description: The hero is asked to do something that feels far beyond their ability.

How It Works: Establishes the transformation arc immediately.

Why It Works: Children instantly root for an underdog.

Best Story Structures: Hero's Trial Story, Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Hero's Trial, Training Journey, Coming of Age

Best Emotional Arcs: Self-Doubt → Confidence, Fear → Courage

Best Story Types: Growth, Hero Journey

Best Age: 6–10

Opening Formula: Impossible challenge → Hero doubts themselves → First small attempt

Opening Emotion: Self-Doubt

Illustration Goal: Show the huge challenge compared to the small hero.

Page Turn Hook: "How could anyone do that?"

Writing Tips: Make the task appear impossible—but secretly achievable through growth.

1. The Circular Return

Id: 1

Slug: the-circular-return

Description: The story ends where it began, but the hero has changed.

How It Works: Mirrors the opening to highlight growth.

Why It Works: Children enjoy recognizing familiar scenes with new meaning.

Best Story Structures: Circular Story, Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Coming of Age, Great Journey

Best Emotional Arcs: Self-Doubt → Confidence, Fear → Courage, Loneliness → Belonging

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth, Journey

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Return to opening → Show changed behaviour → Quiet emotional close

Emotional Resolution: Growth and peace

Final Line Style: Reflective

Replay Trigger: Opening scene echoes with new meaning

Illustration Goal: Same location as the opening, but brighter and more alive

Writing Tips: Let actions reveal the change instead of explaining it.

2. The Quiet Internal Victory

Id: 2

Slug: the-quiet-internal-victory

Description: The biggest success is emotional rather than external.

How It Works: The mission matters, but the hero's inner change matters more.

Why It Works: Leaves a lasting emotional impact.

Best Story Structures: Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Hero's Trial, Coming of Age

Best Emotional Arcs: Shame → Confidence, Fear → Courage

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Mission completed → Hero thinks differently → Peaceful ending

Emotional Resolution: Confidence, acceptance

Final Line Style: Gentle and reflective

Replay Trigger: Small visual callback to the emotional journey

Illustration Goal: Calm close-up of the hero showing confidence

Writing Tips: Show the emotional change through behaviour and expression.

3. The Ripple Effect

Id: 3

Slug: the-ripple-effect

Description: The hero's change positively influences others.

How It Works: Shows that personal growth spreads outward.

Why It Works: Reinforces kindness and community naturally.

Best Story Structures: Community Story, Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Community Project, Helping Hand

Best Emotional Arcs: Self-Focus → Compassion, Fear → Belonging

Best Story Types: Community, Friendship

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Hero changes → Others respond → Community benefits

Emotional Resolution: Belonging

Final Line Style: Warm and hopeful

Replay Trigger: Background characters now behave differently

Illustration Goal: Show the whole community flourishing

Writing Tips: Keep the focus on influence, not praise.

4. The Gentle Surprise

Id: 4

Slug: the-gentle-surprise

Description: A small unexpected reveal adds delight without changing the story.

How It Works: Rewards attentive readers.

Why It Works: Creates an "Aha!" moment and encourages rereading.

Best Story Structures: Mystery Story, Discovery Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Secret Discovery, Treasure Hunt

Best Emotional Arcs: Curiosity → Wonder

Best Story Types: Mystery, Discovery

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Problem solved → Small hidden reveal → Smile

Emotional Resolution: Delight

Final Line Style: Quiet surprise

Replay Trigger: Hidden clue that makes earlier pages more meaningful

Illustration Goal: Focus on one surprising visual detail

Writing Tips: Keep the surprise small and believable.

5. The New Beginning

Id: 5

Slug: the-new-beginning

Description: The adventure ends by opening a hopeful next chapter.

How It Works: Gives closure while suggesting future possibilities.

Why It Works: Makes the story world feel alive beyond the final page.

Best Story Structures: Journey Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Great Journey, Expedition

Best Emotional Arcs: Hope → Confidence

Best Story Types: Adventure, Journey

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Mission complete → New opportunity appears → Hopeful close

Emotional Resolution: Optimism

Final Line Style: Hopeful

Replay Trigger: Small hint of the next adventure

Illustration Goal: Hero looking toward a new horizon

Writing Tips: End one story completely before hinting at another.

6. The Shared Celebration

Id: 6

Slug: the-shared-celebration

Description: Friends, family or the community celebrate together.

How It Works: Rewards the journey with shared joy.

Why It Works: Creates a satisfying emotional release.

Best Story Structures: Celebration Story, Community Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Festival Adventure, Community Project

Best Emotional Arcs: Gratitude → Joy, Loneliness → Belonging

Best Story Types: Celebration, Community

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Mission complete → Everyone gathers → Celebration

Emotional Resolution: Joy and belonging

Final Line Style: Joyful

Replay Trigger: Background details reward rereading

Illustration Goal: Rich festive spread full of life

Writing Tips: Keep the celebration connected to the emotional journey.

7. The Passing Forward

Id: 7

Slug: the-passing-forward

Description: The hero shares the wisdom, kindness or courage they discovered with someone else.

How It Works: The transformation is completed by helping another character.

Why It Works: Shows that true growth naturally spreads to others.

Best Story Structures: Transformation Story, Community Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Helping Hand, Community Project, Coming of Age

Best Emotional Arcs: Self-Doubt → Confidence, Fear → Courage, Self-Focus → Compassion

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth, Friendship, Community

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Hero transforms → Helps another → Wisdom continues

Emotional Resolution: Generosity and responsibility

Final Line Style: Warm and inspiring

Replay Trigger: A younger or struggling character now begins their own journey.

Illustration Goal: Hero helping another in a scene similar to the one where they once needed help.

Writing Tips: Show the wisdom through actions, not speeches.

8. Nature Responds

Id: 8

Slug: nature-responds

Description: Nature quietly reflects the hero's emotional transformation.

How It Works: The environment changes to mirror the emotional resolution.

Why It Works: Creates a memorable visual ending without explaining the lesson.

Best Story Structures: Nature Story, Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Nature's Balance, Great Journey

Best Emotional Arcs: Fear → Peace, Sadness → Hope, Loneliness → Belonging

Best Story Types: Nature, Emotional Growth

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Hero changes → Nature responds → Quiet final image

Emotional Resolution: Peace and harmony

Final Line Style: Gentle and poetic

Replay Trigger: Readers notice nature behaving differently on a reread.

Illustration Goal: Blooming flowers, returning birds, sunlight breaking through clouds, calm river.

Writing Tips: Keep the change subtle and symbolic.

9. The Callback

Id: 9

Slug: the-callback

Description: The ending echoes a moment, line or image from the opening, but with new emotional meaning.

How It Works: Creates symmetry and highlights the hero's transformation.

Why It Works: Children enjoy recognising familiar moments with a deeper understanding.

Best Story Structures: Circular Story, Transformation Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Coming of Age, Hero's Trial

Best Emotional Arcs: Fear → Courage, Self-Doubt → Confidence, Loneliness → Belonging

Best Story Types: Emotional Growth, Journey

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Repeat opening moment → Hero responds differently → Quiet close

Emotional Resolution: Growth and satisfaction

Final Line Style: Reflective

Replay Trigger: Children notice how the opening and ending mirror each other.

Illustration Goal: Nearly identical composition to the opening illustration, but with changed body language and surroundings.

Writing Tips: Use visual storytelling more than dialogue.

10. The Open Door

Id: 10

Slug: the-open-door

Description: The main story feels complete while gently hinting that more adventures are possible.

How It Works: Provides closure while expanding the world.

Why It Works: Encourages imagination and series potential.

Best Story Structures: Journey Story, Discovery Story

Best Adventure Archetypes: Great Journey, Hidden World, Expedition

Best Emotional Arcs: Curiosity → Wonder, Hope → Confidence

Best Story Types: Adventure, Discovery, Series

Best Age: 5–10

Ending Formula: Mission complete → Small mystery remains → Hopeful final image

Emotional Resolution: Wonder and anticipation

Final Line Style: Hopeful

Replay Trigger: A tiny unexplored path, unopened letter, distant light, new map or new friend appears.

Illustration Goal: Hero looking toward a new horizon or discovering one last tiny clue.

Writing Tips: The current emotional journey must feel complete before teasing the future.
